Tribulus terrestris – or “Puncture Vine” as it is also known - is quickly growing to become the most popular herb for men’s sexual function and health available today. A plant native to Africa and southern Asia, Tribulus terrestris has been used for centuries in Ayurvedic medicine to increase sexual drive and energy. Current research now reveals the mechanisms behinds this herb’s potent effects.

Whereas many herbs increase hormone levels directly with the danger of stressing the organs that produce them, Tribulus works by increasing the amount of gonadotropin releasing hormone in the body, a compound that signals the brain to start a cascade of reactions that eventually results in increased testosterone production. Testosterone is well known for its ability to improve fertility and libido but is also required for red blood cell creation and optimal immune system functioning.

Protodioscin, a steroidal saponin, is the compound responsible for Tribulus’ ability to increase testosterone and sexual functioning. Studies have shown that isolated protodioscin can improve erectile function by increasing the release of nitric oxide to boost blood flow to the area.

Saw Palmetto is used to increase testosterone levels and hinder the production of dihydrotestosterone (DHT), a hormone that is created from testosterone when hormone balance is sub-optimal and contributes to prostate enlargement. Damiana (Turnera aphrodisiaca), as the Latin name implies, increases libido and sexual functioning in both men and women. Cleansing and invigoration of the entire body is the reason that Sasparrilla (Smilax officinalis) is included; as well, this herb contains steroidal saponins which add to the hormonal balancing effects of this combination. Ginkgo biloba works to enhance blood flow and circulation, Pumpkin Seed extract contains essential fatty acids that provide the raw materials for proper hormone formation and development and Juniper berries work as a urinary antiseptic and tonic. Finally, Alpha-Lipoic Acid is a powerful anti-oxidant that ensures that any free radicals that could potentially damage the hormones of the body are eliminated.

Whether you choose Tribulus 750 or Super Tribulus Complex, be assured that you are receiving the high quality herbal agents required to improve sexual function, libido, and benefit the entire genitourinary – reproductive system.
